The Cleveland Administration II is the most costly experiment the American people have ever tried.

The New York Weekly Tribune and the Middletown Transcript for one year for only one dollar. Read our advertisement on another page.

The Democratic press throughout the country is scathingly the Democratic Senate unmercifully. Read our clippings, in this issue, from the New York World and Sun, and the Baltimore Sun, and other leading dailies.

If all our subscribers who owe us for last year's and this year's subscriptions to the TRANSCRIPT would pay us at once, we would have many hundreds of dollars to our credit. Many of our readers are notably prompt, and pay regularly in advance as is our rule. Many others seem to forget that it takes money to publish papers, and are regardless of our inconvenience caused by their negligence. We are doing our best to give our readers a first class family newspaper, and spare no pains or expense to make the TRANSCRIPT an attractive, newsy and thoroughly reliable journal. Our growing subscription list is a very gratifying proof of the appreciation of our efforts on the part of our readers. For this we are grateful. But we want a more substantial proof, and ask all who are in arrears to please pay up. Send us your subscriptions for last year and this year and get the New York Weekly Tribune to boot.

THE WHIPPING POST.

The attention of the great reading public has been called again to the Delaware whipping post and pillory. The very vivid description of these relics of barbarism in process of operation, which appeared in Sunday's New York World, has been widely read and variously commented upon. The marvel to us is that these methods of punishment are still tolerated in such a commonwealth as ours, and a still greater marvel that so many thoughtful people approve them. Human punishment of crime should be reformatory and not retributive, but there is no element of reform in the whipping post performance and it is safe to say that nine men out of every ten who are whipped at the whipping post are worse men after their punishment than they were before. Give us a workhouse for our petty law breakers, but in the name of humanity, let us abolish the whipping post. And if it is still to continue let the flogging be done privately.

Close the saloon and we will have little need of either whipping post or workhouse.

Civilization in Delaware.

(From the Rochester Union.)
Although it is generally known that in Delaware a criminal may be legally flogged and put in the pillory, most people have supposed that those forms of punishment had fallen into disuse in that state as well as elsewhere. However, such is not the case. On one day of last week, in the county jail at New Castle, a reporter of the New York World saw eight men flogged with the cat-o-nine-tails and one man put in the pillory. Petty thieves were the crimes for which most of the men suffered at the whipping-post. The account of this punishment furnishes an extraordinary find of read in as one could expect to find in an American newspaper towards the close of the nineteenth century. Years hence it will furnish a just cause for the arraignment of the people of Delaware of this generation for their barbarity. When Delaware sent these men to the whipping-post and the pillory, and there she will remain until she abolishes these modes of punishment.

TO THE YOUNG DEMOCRATS OF ST. GEORGES HUNDRED.

What has the Democrat party ever done for you? What has it ever done to benefit you? This is the first Democratic Administration you have ever seen. Now, candidly, do you ever want to see another? Just as you have come of age, or it may be a few years beyond that, you see the Democrat party come into full control of National affairs, and you see it followed by the most disastrous panic the country has ever seen. You feel it right here at home—you know the times are hard.

Most of you heard Mr. Bayard and Mr. Gray when they spoke here in the last campaign, and heard their glowing predictions if the Democrats were successful in the election. Now what one of those predictions has been fulfilled? What one? Are not wheat and all farm products lower than they ever were? Is not work harder to get and are not wages lower than ever?—less work and less money!

Older Democrats will tell you it is the result of Republican Administration. Well, if that is so, why was it that under Republican Administration and under the same laws the country was prosperous. The year 1892, the last year of Republican Administration was one of the most prosperous in the history of the country. What a marked contrast to 1893-'94.

Facts are facts and the logic of hard times is the argument that clinches.

Next week we will have more to say on this subject.

STAR CHAMBER INVESTIGATION.

What the Leading Democratic Papers say Against It.

Publicity in these days of the press and telegraph conduces to the discovery and development of truth, and secrecy in such investigations affords rich opportunities for falsification and conspiracy. A public investigation would give the committee the benefit of the intelligence and the knowledge of every citizen of the United States, and would render successful falsification difficult by increasing the danger of detection in false testimony. If there is really a sincere desire to get at the truth in this matter, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, the committee has adopted precisely the plan which will best enable it not to get it.

But aside from the fact that secrecy will defeat the nominal object for which the resolution of investigation was passed, the determination to hold secret sessions is deeply to be regretted because of the unpleasant and inevitable suggestions to which it gives rise. The course decided upon is one which to put it mildly, is well calculated to excite suspicion. Unfortunately the Senate can not afford to arouse public distrust. Its attitude hitherto has not been such as to justify public confidence. It has not been forgotten that when rumors of speculation in sugar stocks first got abroad, and the general subject of improper influences was referred to in the Senate, it was passed by as if it was a matter of no moment and beneath the notice of that illustrious body. At last, when the Senate has been forced to order an investigation, its committee closes the doors to the public and adopts a course which is interpreted in many quarters as a confession of guilt. Do the members of the committee realize the position which the Senate occupies before the country—what the people of the country are really beginning to think of a body which was once the most honored and honorable legislative assembly in the world? If not, it would be well for them to know that the people are beginning to look upon many of its members with suspicion and disgust, and in plain language, to think them capable of almost any moral and political dereliction.—Baltimore Sun.

Senator Gray's Blunder.

Sensor Gray is a man of calm judgment and much experience of public life. He knows the trend and force is the currents of public opinion. He not, like many of his colleagues, both ignorant and stupidly obstinate. How such a man as he could have committed himself to a star chamber investigation of charges made in public and believed by the people to be difficult to understand. He must know by this time that he has made a great mistake. But whether he realizes it or not, the inquiry he is conducting behind closed doors is an utter waste of time. It will change nothing and settle nothing. After it finished and its results reported the demand of the people for a genuine investigation will be just as urgent and insistent as if nothing had been said or done. A secret investigation will simply not count at all. The people distrust it in any case. In such a case as this it is recognized as wholly out of place. For what a few Senators think of certain other Senators the public care nothing. The object of the investigation is to expose the guilty or to convince the people that Senators are not dishonest and corrupt. If this is not its object it has none that is intelligible. Does Senator Gray think that he and his colleagues can go into a room, shut themselves up, come out after a time with a statement and have that statement accepted?

Conclusions thus reached will not be worth the paper they are written on or the breath consumed in pronouncing them. The investigation must be fair, open and honest or it may as well stop now.—N. Y. World.

A Senatorial investigation behind closed doors will be sure to convict the public on a charge of "noise and clamor."—New York World.

The Complimentary things which the Senators will have to say of one another during investigation will no doubt be numerous. Modesty compels them to close the doors.—Washington Star.

WHAT TWO NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC papers have to say of Senator Gray: Senator GRAY of Delaware is a poor, unfortunate cuckoo.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

True, and the speciality of it is that the gentleman in question is a man whom the public has had cause to regard as a Democrat possessed of too high ideals and made of too true stuff to see his party stabbed by the Populists without their resistance than a word and meaningless protest. In proportion to the general conception of Senator GRAY has placed him unquestionably high among the public men of the day for his character as a man and for the elevation and surety of his partisanship. His failure to hold up the principles of Democracy above the slime of cuckooism is all the greater surprise and disappointment.—N. Y. Sun.

THE INEFFACEABLE TRUTH.

It is unquestionable that the power of shaping the course of the Democratic party belongs to-day, as it belonged before the war, to the Southern States. With the power goes a heavy responsibility, and we are not among those who deny that, up to the present juncture, the responsibility has been for the most part clearly recognized and worthily sustained. We hold, on the contrary, that from the overthrow of the carpet-bag Governments in the Southern States up to the present time, you see the Democrat party come into full control of National affairs, and you see it followed by the most disastrous panic the country has ever seen. You feel it right here at home—you know the times are hard.

In the House expect to gain by such a step? What they will have to say to them by a sober statement of facts. But what will the gain be? There is yet time to reflect upon this question.

It will scarcely be maintained by the Democratic leaders that they have found it necessary to adopt a plank from the Populist platform, repudiated by the people in 1892, in order to retain control of the Southern States. No such necessity was heard of, and no such departure from the principles proclaimed by the Democratic National Convention was mooted, until Mr. Cleveland suggested it in his message of December 4th, 1893. An income tax was the conspicuous feature of the Populist programme in 1892, yet the Democracy experienced no difficulty in carrying the Southern States, and they need to borrow no ammunition from their opponents in order to report in 1896 the victory there. The race question, and the vital importance of averting the interference of the Federal Government at the ballot box, must always constitute in the Southern States the pivotal issue at Federal elections. Is it, then, in the far Western States that Democratic statesmen hope to acquire ascendancy by the advocacy of an income tax? The recent trend of events in that section affords no basis for hope. It shows, on the contrary, that far the right of the States having any chance in that quarter of absorbing the Populist party, it is rather the Populists who are tending to absorb the Democracy.

But while the Southern Democratic leaders are chasing a shadow in the far West, and scorning the sympathy and assistance of the Empire State and other Northern commonwealths, they are putting the Democracy in peril of losing the very substance of its resources, the permanent root and prop of its power in the United States. If an income tax is now rammed through Congress, and thoughtful men will come to look on the Democratic leaders as guilty of a flagrant breach of trust through the transfer of a plank from the repudiated Populist platform to that on which they have professed to stand when they sought the confidence of the country. They will consider that Democratic statesmen have set an example mischievous to public men and perilous to the nation, encouraging a disrespect and a betrayal of political principles solemnly affirmed, and of political good faith publicly pledged. They will hold that under our Presidential system of government which as regards the Executive, permits the people to be consulted only once in four years, the very foundation of our institution is shaken if a novel and revolutionary project condemned at the ballot box, can be resuscitated and enacted into law.

If the national will can be defied in this fashion, then indeed, was the American people, in the interval between one Presidential election and another, justly compared by Bagehot to blind and shackled champion of Israel.

"Eyeless in Gaza at the mill with slaves."—N. Y. Sun (Dem.).

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 24th, 1894.—Perhaps it may be true, as has been constantly reiterated, that Mr. Stevenson is not particularly friendly towards Mr. Cleveland and his administration, but his selection of the Democratic members of the Senate committee that Monday began a star chamber investigation of numerous charges of crookedness against Senators and outsiders, beginning with the cock and bull story concerning an attempt being made to bribe Senators Hutton, of Va., and Kyle of S. Dak., to vote against the tariff bill, and including the charges against Democrat Senators of having speculated in sugar trust stock and of having given the sugar trust protection in exchange for its big contribution to the Cleveland campaign fund, makes him appear very friendly indeed toward the administration.

For instance, Senator Gray, chairman of the committee, is known as chief of the Senate "cuckoos," and a man who would do more for the administration than any other Senator, while Senator Lindsay, the other Democratic member of the committee, is in addition to being a cuckoo, known as Carlisle's man. The significance of these selections will not be undervalued when it is remembered that Secretary Carlisle, representing Mr. Cleveland, has been the first to the last in the line in all the dealings between the Democratic Senators and sugar trust, Senator Mills, of Texas, has publicly stated that Secretary Carlisle was the President of the sugar trust a letter of introduction to him and that he refused to see him when he called to present it. The Democrats ask credit for being fair because Senator Allen of Neb., was put upon the committee, but they do not deserve it, as Allen has voted with the Democrats on all political questions and is regarded as a Democrat, although he calls himself a Populist. It is clear that if anything is shown up by this committee it will be through the energy of its two Republican members Lodge, of Mass., and Davis of Minn. But nothing can be shown up, unless witnesses choose to tell what they know, the supreme court having some years ago decided that a Congressional committee could not compel them either to testify or to produce books dealing with a citizen's private affairs. That decision is a great consolation to more than one Democratic Senator just now. Another consoling thing to certain Democratic Senators was the decision by the committee to make the investigation secret, giving out from day to day only such information as Senator Gray may see fit. That means that the newspaper men will have to hustle to find out what is going on in that committee room, as Mr. Gray is one of those non-communicative Senators who regard newspapers as a kind of nuisance.

An amusing tidbit is going the rounds, recalling the old couplet "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men." During an executive session the other day when a discussion was going on over the confirmation of some nominees in which the Republicans had no interest a number of them whiled away the time writing verses on the exhibition Senator Turpie, of Ind., made of himself recently by his uncalled for personal attack on Senator Aldrich. The venerable Senator Morrill, affectionately called the father of the Senate, started the amusement and soon a half dozen Senators were cudgeling their brains for rhymes. Senator Manderson's verse was unanimously voted the best. He wrote: "Aldrich is a triple liar," said Turpie in a rage, "But Aldrich, without show of fire, said: 'Turpie is no sage.' And into no abuse he went. In stating Turpie was sure drunk. The Republican Senators having concluded to hold their ammunition for big game, considerable progress has been made in disposing of the important items of the tariff bill, but the sugar schedule is regarded as the biggest of big game and when that is reached there is going to be fighting all along the line, and it will not be surprising if some Democrats join with the Republicans in trying to strike out the $30,000,000 which the proposed amendment to the sugar schedule will add each year to the cost of sugar consumed in this country. A number of Republican Senators are prepared to fire some sensational facts at the Democratic friends of the sugar trust, and it is understood that Senator Hill will also have something to say on the same subject that will not make enjoyable reading for either Mr. Cleveland or Secretary Carlisle. It is expected that the sugar schedule will be the end of this week.

Mr. Benedict broke the record Saturday at the Government printing office by discharging more than 700 people, about half of them women, and of course, all of them Republicans. The number will probably be duplicated with ten days.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, price 75c.

"These, no understanding women," complained Newly Wedd to his best friend. "What makes you say that?" asked that gentleman. "When I fail to bring Lizette flowers and candy she says I do not love her as I did when we were engaged. And when I bring her flowers and candy she grumbles about my extravagance, and says I ought to try to save money, now that I have a wife to support."

When lovely women overwork, And find that their health gives way, What charm can soothe her melancholy? What art can take the pain away? One of the saddest cases a physician meets, is that of some sweet, modest woman, who in striving to make her home life happy, has overtaxed her delicate constitution, until her health is so completely broken down, that her every moment is misery. Natural feeling of delicacy, prompt her to defer consulting a physician until the most serious results have ensued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription removes the necessity of any embarrassing consultation with a physician. Dr. Pierce has devoted a long active life to the closest study of woman's disease, and no specialist in the world is better fitted to prescribe than he. Complete directions are given with each bottle. For periodical pains, bearing down sensation, nervous debility and all uterine disorders, "Favorite Prescription" is a sure cure.

Mrs. Van Brume—Have you signed the suffrage petition? Mrs. Nue Voerliche—Yes, and I've also signed the anti-suffrage petition. I noticed that there seemed to be a little doubt as to which was the really aristocratic crowd; so I thought I'd make sure.

YOUR FUTURE

IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.

Primarily assume to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains itself. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET LINE you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEAD denotes brain power; clear LINE OF POULVE, face or nose. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern times to win it. You will find plenty of these in the Transcript's Family Magazine, so interestingly presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a home magazine in one. A GLASS LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse, crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH means no future illness; so will health lines in the Transcript. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or depression if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having the Transcript Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a complete set of the Transcript of great value, besides the superb premium picture, "The Dancer" which is the most beautiful baby and equal to the original oil painting which cost $500; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the facts, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family. While the Transcript is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unsatisfied with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, honest intentions; the MOUNT OF JUPITER bespeaks ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

As long ago as 1821 Goethe advocated a ship canal across Nicaragua.

Rose Bonheur is now seventy two years old. She lives in retirement near Fontainebleau, receiving only a few old and tried friends. Her fashion of dress, more masculine than that of the feminine style, once gave rise to what she afterward described as the most lively emotion of her life. In 1863 the Empress Eugenie came out from Paris to fasten the Cross of the Legion of Honor on the breast of the famous painter of animals, who was warned only just in time to take off male attire and put on a dress before her imperial Majesty was announced. Rose Bonheur has recently been promoted to an officers grade in the Order of the Legion of Honor and is the first woman artist ever to receive such a distinction.

Which is the oldest tune in the world? Most people would guess the Delphic hymn to Apollo, which was dug up the other day. But they would be wrong. It is the tune which in the olden times was called "We won't go home till morning." Napoleon's soldiers played it in the shadow of the Pyramids in 1799, and the Bedouins who heard it wept for joy. It was found among the children of the desert by the Crusaders. I have no doubt it was howled by Chaldean chappies when they were merry with wine. It is, according to experts, the elemental, protoplasmic tune. Pall Mall Gazette

After the Grip

Relief from Hood's Sarsaparilla Wonderful and Permanent.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'I had kidney trouble and severe pains in my back, which was brought about by a cold contracted while in camp at Linnfield in 1892. I have been troubled more or less since that time and have been unable to do any heavy work, much less any lifting. I received only temporary relief from medicines. Last spring I had no stock of the grip, which left me with a bad cough, very weak.

Physically I feel my system was completely run down. I tried a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me feel so much better that I continued taking it, and have taken six bottles. It has done wonders for me, as I have not been so free from my old pains and troubles since the war. I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla a God-send blessing to the suffering.' WILLIAM J.
